WHILE THE WEATHER IS FINE!

We [illegible] World, [illegible] following [illegible] a known democratic [illegible] sentiments [illegible] in New York, as well as Union Democrats in every other State:

Here are the concessions we are in favor of, seriatim:

1. We want the Southern States to concede that ours is a Government indeed, and not a mere compact between States.

2. We want them to concede that a State cannot dissolve its [illegible] at its own pleasure.

3. We want them to concede that the Government has a right to enforce its laws and protect its property.

4. We want them to concede that it is the duty of this Government to retake from southern traitors its stolen forts and arsenals.

5. We want them to concede that old Abe was constitutionally elected, and had a right to his seat.

6. We want them to concede that the seceded States have violated the Constitution, and, while they are in armed rebellion against its authority, it is the duty of this Government to put that rebellion down.

7. We want them to concede that the taking of the Federal forts and firing upon our flag are wrongs that should be atoned for.

8. We want them to concede that northern creditors have a right to sue for and collect their demands in southern courts.

9. We want them to concede that they have no right to tar and feather every northern citizen that goes among them.

10. We want them to concede that it is the duty of this Government to hang or shoot every one traitor scoundrel in it.

And in demanding all these things do we ask the South to make a single concession which the Constitution of the United States does not require of them?

The Richmond Dispatch of recent date, under the head of its correspondence from Lynchburg, contains the following reference to the monetary currency of that once flourishing city:

"The amount of trash in the shape of currency thrown out on the public in this community is truly alarming. For some time past the notes of numberless defunct Southern Banks have been imposed on the ignorant and unsuspecting; but the latest abomination out is the shape of individual notes of denominations of ten, twenty-five, and fifty cents, which made their appearance in our city on Thursday last. This rag currency goes off readily with the ignorant and soldiers who are strangers here, and are led to believe it to be the best of money merely because it purports to be issued in Lynchburg. If prompt measures are not taken to suppress the circulation of these illegal issues the whole country will be flooded to such an extent that we shall have no currency at all, as it will be supplanted by the due bills of every individual who chooses to have his worthless trash on the community."

STATE ELECTIONS.—The elections held in the States of Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Iowa and Minnesota, have all resulted in the triumph of the Union candidates, though the elections in Indiana and Pennsylvania were only for county officers. The [illegible] Tod, the Union party candidate in Ohio for Governor, will not be less than [illegible] Gov. Kirkwood, Republican, is re-elected in Iowa. The contest in all these States was rather of a lukewarm character, the success of the Union candidates being regarded [illegible] from the start, and [illegible] very little opposition. [illegible] Union [illegible] that the supporters of Jewett, the [illegible] candidate for Governor, were [illegible]

MONDAY MORNING NOV [illegible] 186[illegible]

The Advertiser's want of respect for Truth

The Advertiser of Saturday [illegible] article in which [illegible] charging Benjamin Stark with [illegible] ments [illegible] the [illegible] Union [illegible] that paper says:

"Nor [illegible]—The Oregonian of yesterday speaking in reference to the late Senatorial appointment makes allegations against Col. Stark which are entirely untrue."

Many citizens of our city who have been in the habit of hearing Mr Stark talk on politics know that in this case the Advertiser man has uttered a deliberate falsehood. The same paper says:

"It is nothing more than was to be expected from a journal that has uniformly classed and stigmatized all Democrats as [illegible] who would not swallow down the Chicago platform and endorse every executive usurpation of Lincoln and which has only had a regard for such Democrats as have been willing to enlist under Republican colors."

There is not one word of truth in this statement—as every man knows who reads the Oregonian. It is a palpable lie from the beginning to the end. Again:

"Governor Whitaker could have made no appointment that would have met with the approbation of the Oregonian, or its party without making a selection from their ranks and hardly even then from the fact of there being so many ambitious aspirants among them."

This is given as matter of opinion by the Advertiser, and that opinion might have proved true or not. We do not complain [illegible]. And still again:

"It is but justice to Col. Stark to say that as a man he enjoys the confidence and esteem of his personal acquaintances, and as a Democrat he is one of the most talented and popular leaders of the party in Oregon."

We have nought to say in regard to Mr Stark enjoying the confidence of his personal acquaintances, and we can pardon the [illegible] for his attempted flattery of a man who is regarded well of himself. Another quotation:

"With neither his ability or social qualities can any fault be found, and it is only on the ground of his being a political opponent that the Republican organs condemn his appointment."

It is false that we condemn his appointment because he is a political opponent. We condemn because we believe him to be opposed to our Government—because we believe him to be in favor of this rebellion—because we believe his sympathies are with treason, and because we believe he would rejoice in the prostration of this Government and in the [illegible] success of the Southern Confederacy. We believe these things, because of his public declarations in our midst, and because we have heard him in all those [illegible] speak the sentiments of his heart. And lastly:

"That he will do his duty as a patriot statesman in the Senate [illegible] power to lend to the [illegible] and of the Union [illegible] who know him [illegible]."

If this statement of the Advertiser is true, we must [illegible] that Mr Stark has been a most [illegible] man in expressing his [illegible] Judging from his declarations we should think it more likely [illegible] would [illegible] going to Washington [illegible] Palmetto State [illegible] flag.

CITY.

Proceedings in Relation to the Death of Gen. Baker.—In pursuance of the arrangements made by [illegible] Committee of Arrangements appointed at a [illegible] on the 23 inst. [illegible] the M. E. Church on Saturday last, where the following proceedings were had:

At half-past [illegible] o'clock, S. Francis, as President, called the meeting to order; a prayer was made by Rev. Mr. [illegible], followed by the choir, and the following resolutions were read and adopted:

Whereas, Gen. E. D. Baker, late U. S. Senator from Oregon, in the hour of his country's need, and while in the service of his country in repelling the nation's foes, has fallen; and being desirous of giving expression to the deep sorrow we feel in this bereavement;—therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of Gen. Baker the Nation has lost an eloquent and brave defender of her liberties, and our State a loyal and faithful Senator.

Resolved, That the distinguished services of Gen. Baker as a Senator, and the devotion with which he has adhered to the Nation's cause on the field of battle, have shed a bright lustre upon our State, which will secure to his memory a lasting monument in the hearts of a grateful constituency.

Resolved, That the long career of our deceased Senator as a legislator, and his services as a soldier during the Mexican war and the present rebellion, afford an example worthy the emulation of all patriots.

Resolved, That we offer our sincere condolence to his bereaved family in the loss of a faithful son, and an affectionate husband and father.

Remarks were made by the President of the meeting, followed by an address upon the condition of the country and the life and character of the late Gen. Baker; prayer followed by Rev. Mr. Cornelius; singing by the choir—closing with a benediction by Rev. Mr. Dillon. The proceedings seemed to give general satisfaction. The address of Rev. Mr. Pearne was excellent, and peculiarly appropriate to the occasion.

City Sewers.—We can never have good streets, dry lots, and generally useful cellars, on the first bench of this city, until we have sewers to carry off the surplus water. We venture to say that rarely can a city site be found which offers greater facilities for the construction of sewers. The earth can readily be excavated, and the grade from the hill to the river is just about what would be desired for the purpose. We wish the experiment could be made on one street. The walls of the sewer could be made of hard-burned brick, which would probably be the cheapest material for the purpose. Good brick are almost indestructible. The city improvements, hereafter, when possible, should be such as will be designed to last.

Juvenile Offenders.—A couple of young boys by the name of David and William Roland, were brought up on Saturday before Esq. Risley, on a charge of stealing a watch from Hulery's livery stable on First street. The proof of their guilt was so positive, that His Honor was obliged to bind them over in the sum of two hundred dollars; in default of which they were committed to the county jail.

A Severe Accident.—We are sorry to learn that the wife of our estimable townsman Joseph Buchtel, met with a serious accident from the explosion of a fluid lamp.

Circuit Court.—The Circuit Court of this county for the November term, Judge A. E. Wait presiding, will commence its session this morning.

Adjourned.—The County Court for the November term adjourned on Saturday.

Shades Saloon.—Roast Pig, Teal, Mallard and Blue-Bill Ducks, will be served up for Lunch at the "Shades Saloon" this morning, at half-past ten o'clock.

MARRIED:

On Sunday, 10th inst., at the Synagogue Beth-Israel, by Rev. Mr. Bories, Mr. A. J. Block, of the Dalles, to Miss Babetta Fal[illegible], of this city.

The compliments of the happy couple are acknowledged.

DIED:

In Linn county, Oct. 28th, of putrid sore throat, Edward Sutton, eldest son of Edward H. and Emily C. Grijan, aged nine months and nine days.

Notice.

FLAX COTTON.—If King Cotton is not likely to be dethroned by his [illegible] rival Flax, he is destined to get a severe poke in the ribs, which will make his seat uneasy. We have seen several [illegible] of the new commodity to-day, which [illegible] to the genuine article than any [illegible] under our [illegible] and thread have all been made of the new fibre, and with a remarkable degree of perfection. New processes for preparing the fibre give great encouragement to those who are embarked in the business. Mills for the manufacture have already been erected in New York and in New England, and will soon be in operation, not only working the Flax [illegible] into fabrics, but [illegible] with wool and cotton. American ingenuity is about to show [illegible] and English have hitherto [illegible].—N. Y. Post.

"What would our wives say if they knew where we were [illegible] a [illegible] fearful of going [illegible]."

"Humph! I [illegible] mind that," replied the mate, "if we only knew where we were ourselves."

"How shall I get rid of my troublesome suitor?"

"O, marry him."

"I would see him hanged first!"

"No; marry him, and he will be sure to hang himself soon enough."

"Where do you hail from?" inquired a tall Yankee of a traveler.

"Where did you rain from?" was the reply.

"Don't rain at all," said the astonished Jonathan.

"Neither do I hail—so mind your own business."

"Well Patrick, I am glad you have recovered—but were you not afraid to meet your God?"

"Och, no, your riv'rence—it was meeting ov that old chap that I was afraid ov."

"Why did you leave your last place?" inquired a young house-keeper about to engage a new servant.

"Why, you see, ma'am," replied the applicant, "I was too good looking, and when I opened the door, folks took me for the missus."

"My dear lady, your daughter is lovely," said a flatterer—"a perfect little pearl."

"And pray sir, what am I?"

"Oh, you are the mother of pearl."

Remarkable Instance of Medical Relief.

[illegible] three of the [illegible] having received [illegible] gratitude, make known [illegible] their statement [illegible] The demands of [illegible] publicity, and we [illegible] all afflicted:

[illegible] desirous of [illegible] enough to be similarly [illegible] of their sufferings [illegible] thus publicly express [illegible] Czapkay, for the [illegible] down by the disease [illegible] practices of [illegible] body and mind [illegible] imposed upon [illegible] at the advice of [illegible] disease as of trifling [illegible] a few weeks, and in [illegible] treatment. I found, to my [illegible] relief, my symptoms [illegible] and being told by [illegible] confined to the brain [illegible] consequence, I despaired of [illegible] strength and energy, and as a last resort [illegible] called upon Dr. Czapkay, who [illegible] my case prescribed some medicine which [illegible] relieved me of the dull pain and dizziness [illegible] encouraged by the result. I resolved to place myself [illegible] under his care, and by a strict [illegible] his directions and advice my head became clear [illegible] the constant pain in my back and groins [illegible] the nervous reaction of my [illegible] slightest alarm or excitement, the [illegible] distrust and want of [illegible] incapability to study, and want of [illegible] the frightful exciting and at times pleasurable dreams [illegible] night followed by involuntary discharges, have all disappeared, and in fact in two months after having [illegible] the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life [illegible] but a short time ago I contemplated to end [illegible] hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate [illegible] into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of [illegible] being assured by my own experience, that [illegible] under [illegible] a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

B. F. [illegible]

MARYSVILLE, June [illegible]

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco—Sir: I have used the last of your medicine and do not think I shall need any more, as I [illegible] very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I called on you, [illegible] with my constitution, as I thought, [illegible] entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves so that I would not get excited and tremble [illegible] Now that you know what I expected, you may judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery [illegible] the removal of those sores and [illegible] my skin, [illegible] from my throat, and the [illegible] which you said were [illegible] cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which was greatest [illegible] for except not having my strength, I feel as well as any man can feel. [illegible] twenty dollars over your charge [illegible] If you think anybody [illegible] this letter in the newspapers [illegible]
